

The black rook and the black queen lie on a diagonal with the white bishop.

The black rook shares a rank or file with another rook.

The black rook has no adjacent knight (including diagonals).

The black queen shares its rank with exactly three other pieces.

The black king occupies a white square.

The black knight is the only piece on the black king's diagonals.

The black knight is on a board edge and shares its rank with the black queen.

