Your Serene Highness, Emperor Franz,

When this letter reaches you, I will have abducted your most precious treasure - Empress Sissi. At last my plan, which I have been preparing for so many years, has succeeded. The fine air of the spa town of Meran has drawn Empress Sissi to South Tyrol again and again in recent years. During one of her walks through the beautiful village of Schenna, I struck from the shadows.

If you ever wish to see her again unharmed, I expect the ransom of SEVEN million gulden within the next hour.

The Black Prince of Schenna
